

About Splash Foundation

Splash Foundation creates opportunities for kids and adults from disadvantaged communities to experience the transformative impact of learning to swim and to enjoy lifelong access to the water.

Our work is centred around three key strategies. We design and deliver learn to swim programmes that are inclusive, fun and effective. We train, empower and connect people who know how to swim – including our beneficiaries – with people who want to learn. And we build awareness about learning to swim as a life skill and vehicle for personal growth, resiliency, wellbeing and connection.

By improving access to swimming, we enhance wellbeing and ignite long term change in the community. Our beneficiaries include: migrant domestic workers, children and parents from low income families, and children with special educational needs.

By 2030, Splash Foundation aims to teach 25,000 people how to swim.
